

BUROSTATION

One line pitch:

BuroStation is the 1st free online software capable of linking workers in shared offices based on professional complementarities.

Market Analysis:

More than three millions of businesses encountered difficulties while they were setting up. Moreover the life of a business is required to change often of course consequently it needs to adapt to continuous changes. The renting of office buildings and spaces has become a "must" because it allows more freedom than the constraints of property. Our digital platform is aligned with the mutations led by new forms of work, the cooperative and collaborative spirit, the telecommuting and pliability offered by the expansion of the thirds-place. This totally online linking is innovative because no solution exists today to give to micro-enterprises a smart, simple and affordable location offer.

Value proposition:

Our solution is, thanks to BuroStation, to quickly and easily match the demand of more than 3 millions of micro-enterprises with the supply of properties owners, indeed there is about 6 millions square meters of vacants spaces in France. Nowadays, there is no network able to group the multiple property researches of offices. Furthermore we are offering the possibility to flatshare workspaces by work complementarities and to create professional interaction.

Business Model:

Our model is based on some different resources : - Main sites administration (rents) - brand licenses exploitation (tertiary and health) through external managers - commission from owners through linking aspect of our work - sells from our partners

IP and Regulatory situation:

This "matching tool" is innovative because it organizes every workspaces search by professional affinities in order to make them compatible with workspaces share offers. The objective for BuroStation : make the true market needs coincide with the commercial offer - an evolving sector influenced by the new forms of work. It lets the conversations and trades between users and owners existing spontaneously. The objective : create a credible national network with different third places and business centres.
